

Senate Vote Sends Nixon a Draft Bill

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today passed and sent to President Nixon the long-stalled bill extending for two years the draft that expired last June 30.

The action came with startling speed after the Senate voted to curb debate, blocking a threatened filibuster on the measure.

By a 61 to 30 vote, just over the two-thirds required, the Senate invoked its debate-limiting cloture rule.

That left every senator one more hour to talk on the issue, but no one used it. Instead, the roll was called at once on the bill itself.

Before the votes today, Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania predicted the invoking of cloture at one time or another.

Scott, Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., and other advocates of action to extend the draft—which lapsed June 30—said he would file immediately a new petition to curb debate, if the first vote failed, meaning another vote Thursday.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he would vote against cloture, but also indicated he planned no effort to persuade other Democrats to do the same.

Mansfield proposed Senate rejection of the compromise draft extension bill. He hoped to revive in a new version his amendment declaring it national policy to withdraw all U.S. forces from Indochina within nine months, if prisoners of war are released.

The Mansfield motion was rejected, 47 to 36, last Friday.

Stennis, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said Monday the rejection showed that a Senate majority believes draft authority must be renewed without the Mansfield end-of-the-war amendment.

The Senate adopted the withdrawal deadline provision during its original 32-day debate on the draft bill. It was dropped by the House, and in the compromise version worked out by negotiators for the two branches.

The compromise urges President Nixon to negotiate a final date for U.S. troop withdrawal. The draft bill would extend selective service for two years, and raise the military pay by $2.4 billion, a move designed to attract volunteers.

Special Bond Vote at Jonesboro

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The Jonesboro City Council set a special election for Oct. 22 during their meeting Monday night to vote on issuing $5 million in Act 9 bonds to finance a new industry.

Herbert H. McAdams, chairman of the Arkansas Development Commission, said the industry had asked that its name not be revealed now. However, he said the industry's name would be revealed before the election.

He said the industry would locate on 8.5 acres in the Jonesboro Park and would initially employ over 200 persons in a "high-skill" type industry.

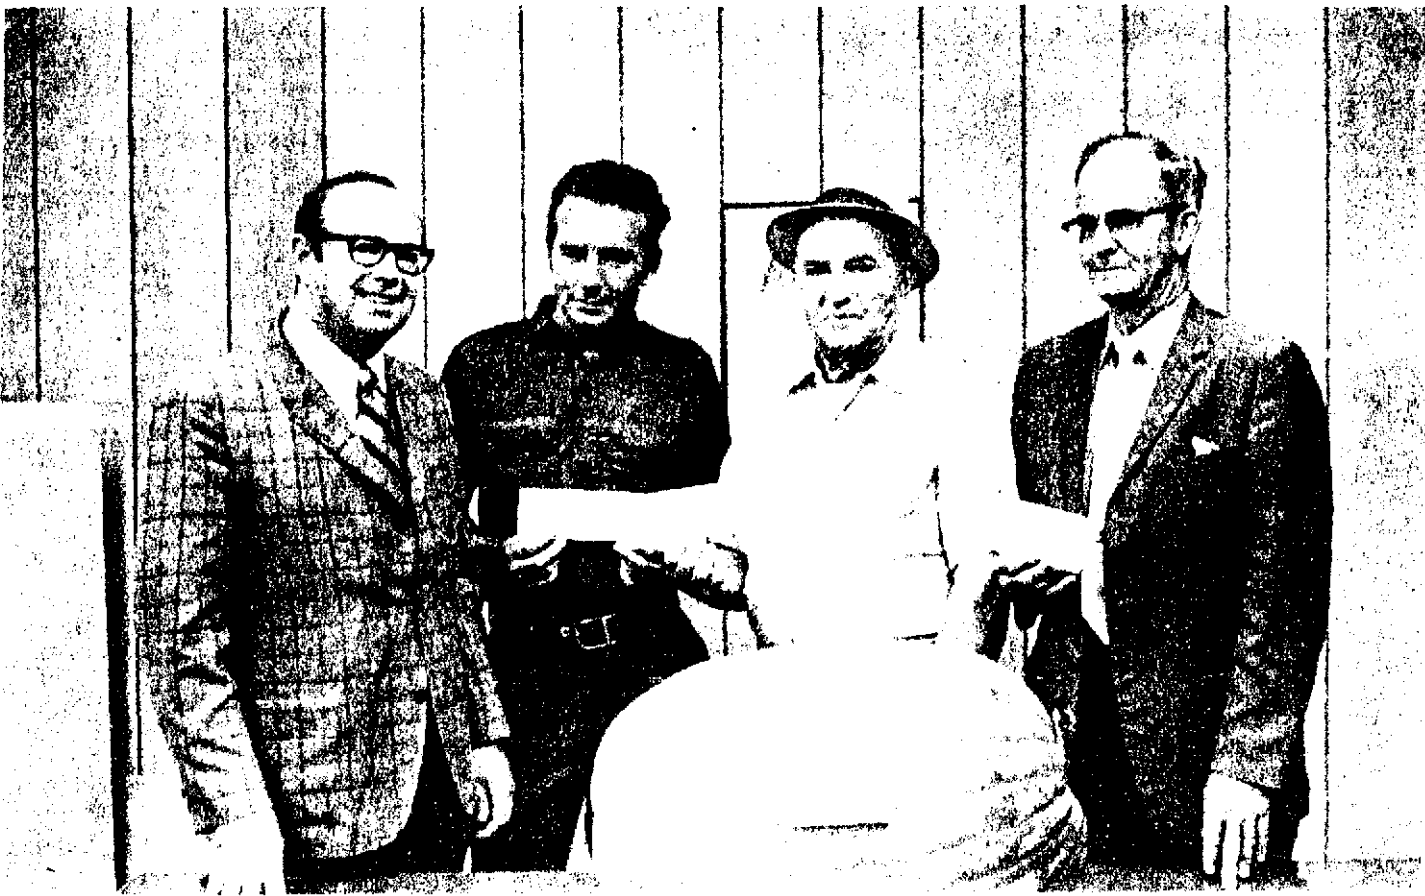

School Fight Brings 23 Suspensions

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Twenty-three Jonesboro High School students were suspended from school for five days Monday following a fight at the school Friday.

School officials said that although there were black and white students involved in the fighting, there did not appear to be a racial conflict involved.

Clarence Geis, superintendent of schools, said the parents of the students and the students met with school officials Monday morning. He said he asked the parents to back the decision of the school to suspend the students for fighting.

Lester Kent, of Route No. 1, Hope is again the Champion Watermelon Grower of the area in 1971. His 120 pound melon, much smaller than usual, took the prize of $300 offered by the Hope-Hempstead County Chamber of Commerce. Pat Rateliff, of Route 1 Patmos, came in second with his 116½ pound melon and Jim Burke, of Route No. 3 of Hope, was third with his 101 pound melon. Mr. Rateliff received $150 for his melon and Jim Burke received $100 for his.

Growers in the area all agreed that 1971 was a bad year for BIG Melons but all are looking forward to 1972 and another try for a good crop.

About Time to Check Your Status, See If Prestige Up or Down

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — What has been happening to your status lately? Is your prestige rising or falling?

This is important to know in a civilization where everything seems to depend on your keeping your best foot forward at all times.

Well, perhaps it's time we made one of our seasonal checkups. There are certain signs which unmistakably indicate whether you are on the boulevard to mogulism or on the downward path to mongrelism. For example, you don't have a thing to worry about if—

The liquor served you at the cocktail parties you attend is of better quality than it was 10 years ago.

You can now go in and buy your suits at stores whose windows you could only stare at before.

The airlines credit card you carry is good for international as well as domestic flights.

When he takes you to lunch, the boss never bothers you about office problems. He just like to tell you long tales about how hard he used to work as a boy.

You and your wife can now afford to take a two-week cruise during the Christmas season so you won't have to listen to "Jingle Bells" so many times.

Investment Tax Credit Proposed by President Runs Into Trouble

By BILL NEKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has run into trouble over his anti-inflation policies in Congress, where the House Ways and Means Committee decided not to back a two-level form of investment tax credit.

Nixon had proposed a 10 per cent credit immediately, dropping to 5 per cent after a year. But the committee decided it would vote for a straight percentage rate.

Rep. John Byrnes, R-Wis., however, said the exact rate had not been agreed upon.

As the setback was disclosed on Capitol Hill, the administration announced it was acting to funnel some $200 million into sagging local economies. The funds are part of those authorized by a new public service job law, opening jobs of police, firemen and other public services to the unemployed.

The money, the second allocation under a $1 billion program passed last summer by Congress, would enable the nation's cities and counties hardest hit by unemployment to put the jobless to work in public service occupations.

But, unlike a previous $600 million distribution, the new round of money will be spent only in areas that have been stricken with six per cent or more unemployment for three recent months consecutively.

Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson said the administration has already provided enough money to create 27,000 public service jobs, adding that more than 6,000 persons were working in such jobs at the end of last week.

Although the program will ease some of the nation's unemployment problems, it is not expected to make a big dent in the unemployment rate, now at 6.1 per cent.

As the Labor Department moved on the employment front, the Cost of Living Council acted to get maximum mileage out of President Nixon's decision to cut the dollar loose from its tie with gold.

Plane Crash Kills Student, Instructor

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP)—A Fayetteville flying instructor and his student were killed Monday night when their single-engine plane crashed as they practiced landings at the Springdale Airport.

Washington County officials identified the two as Pete Eddy, 21, the instructor and James McCollum, 31, the student. Both were from Fayetteville.

Witnesses said the single-engine Piper plane had touched the runway during a series of practice landings. Witnesses said the plane then took off and was turning back to the airport for another landing when the engine apparently failed.

The plane belonged to a Fayetteville flying club.

McCollum was a doctoral student at the University of Arkansas.

FFA Day at Stock Show Opening Day

The annual FFA Day at the Third District Livestock will be Monday, September 27. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m., and skill contests and eliminations for night show will begin at 10:00 a.m. All contests will end by 2:00 p.m.

Skill contests include livestock judging, forestry contests and shop contests.

FFA members will produce a show in the coliseum at 8:00 p.m.

Admission for the show will be 50c for students and $1 for adults, with proceeds going for awards for participating FFA members.

$1 Million for Counties in Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration earmarked $200 million Monday to help the nation's high unemployment areas hire the jobless in public-service occupations.

The funds, available under a recently passed emergency employment law go mainly to cities and counties that have been suffering from 6 per cent or more unemployment for three recent consecutive months.

Arkansas will get $1,040,800.

The counties and their shares are: Part of Sebastian County, Fort Smith Northside, $42,800; Balance of Arkansas, $998,000, going to Texarkana Model neighborhood, $42,000; and counties of Columbia, $41,600; Conway, $26,300; Crawford, $68,800; Crittenden, $53,400; Faulkner, $52,300; Franklin, $54,800; Hot Spring, $27,600; Independence, $53,300; Johnson, $31,100; Lawrence, $39,600; Lincoln $42,300; Logan, $40,400; Ouachita, $80,100; Polk, $41,200; Randolph, $49,200; Searcy, $30,500; Union, $35,600; Van Buren, $44,700; and White, $43,500.

Specialist Is Honored

TOKYO (AP) — Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart specialist who treated the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, was honored at a dinner in Peking on Monday with several other American doctors who are visiting Communist China, the New China News Agency reported today.

The other doctors were Samuel Rosen, an ear specialist and Edmunds Grey Dimond a cardiologist. They were accompanied by their wives.

The agency said the dinner for the Americans, who arrived in the Chinese capital Saturday, was given by Hsieh Hua an official of the Chinese Medical Association.

U.S. Seeking Approval of Taiwan Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Expressing growing confidence that its proposals for keeping Taiwan in the United Nations are heading for passage, the United States plans to submit today its two-Chinas resolution at the opening of the 26th General Assembly.

The resolution calls for giving Peking assembly membership and China's permanent seat on the Security Council while retaining Nationalist China in the assembly.

A second U.S. resolution on China would make expulsion of a U.N. member an "important question," requiring a two-thirds vote for passage. Under the American plan, the question of a seat for Peking would be settled by a simple majority.

The State Department in Washington expressed increasing confidence Monday that its China resolutions are heading for success. "We made important progress over the weekend not only as to cosponsors but in respect to voting," department spokesman Charles W. Bray said. But he declined to discuss the number of cosponsors or who they are.

The prestige of cosponsors is considered an important element in whether the United States wins passage of its proposal over an Albanian-sponsored plan to seat Peking and oust Taiwan.

Australia and New Zealand announced Monday they would cosponsor the U.S. resolution. Several other smaller nations, including Haiti, also were mentioned as possible cosponsors.

Although debate on China is not expected before late October, the subject will come up in the 25-member U.N. steering committee, which meets Wednesday and Thursday to organize the 109 items on this year's three-month agenda.

Adam Malik, the Indonesian foreign minister who will be president of the 127-nation General Assembly, is one of the few people here who believe Peking will accept a U.N. invitation even if Taiwan stays in.

"If we give the assembly seat and the Security Council seat to Peking what else can they want?" he observed recently. He added that he thought it possible Peking would change its announced position of refusing membership if the Nationalists remain.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — West Germany's Central Bank intervened in the foreign exchange market here today and staved off a record decline of the dollar.

The dollar made a strong recovery after the intervention. It had dropped to 3.3300 marks before the bank stepped in, then rebounded to 3.3597 marks. Dealers said the Central Bank made spot purchases of $5 million.

The early drop in the dollar's value against the mark was the lowest point since the creation of the West German mark in 1948. This was the equivalent of 10 per cent upward revaluation of the mark.

Chinese Form Schools to Avoid Busing

By MIKE SILVERMAN
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — About 1,000 Chinese-American children are attending four new private "neighborhood schools" formed because of their parents' opposition to court-ordered busing to desegregate San Francisco's public elementary schools.

"We were forced to open these schools because of the strong desire of parents for a free choice of where to send their children," said James Wong, a spokesman for the sponsoring group, called Chinese Parents for Quality Education.

A boycott of the public schools, which opened Sept. 13 with 58.6 per cent of expected enrollment, has been most noticeable in Chinatown, the largest Chinese community outside Asia. The new schools opened Monday in four private Chinese cultural school buildings where many Chinatown children have for years attended bilingual classes after regular school hours.

"There's a very strong feeling in Chinatown that the culture of our Chinese background is worth saving," Wong said.

Wong said of the boycott: "We didn't picket or tell anyone not to get on a bus."

Public school officials reported some picketing of schools Monday as attendance rose to 71.7 per cent, still well below the normal 90 per cent. The heaviest absenteeism remained in Chinatown.

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers made 200 combat strikes inside North Vietnam today, one of the biggest raids since the halt in the bombing of the North nearly three years ago.

A spokesman for the U.S. Command, Lt. Col. Gerald D. Hill, said the strikes from 6 a.m. to noon were against anti-aircraft and missile sites and other military positions and were confined to within 35 miles of the demilitarized zone.

He said all of the American supersonic jets returned safely to their bases, but an assessment of the damage to the North Vietnamese positions was not immediately available.

The raids were made, Hill said, because of increased North Vietnamese anti-aircraft and surface-to-air missile—SAM—attacks on unarmed reconnaissance planes flying over the North, and on bombers attacking the Ho Chi Minh supply trail in neighboring Laos.

A command statement said the targets constituted a threat to the safety of U.S. forces.

U.S. Air Force planes from bases in Thailand and South Vietnam participated in the strikes.

The raids were the heaviest since March 21-22 when about 200 combat strikes were flown over North Vietnam in a 24-hour period by Air Force fighter-bombers from bases in Thailand and Navy warplanes from two carriers in the Tonkin Gulf.

A large North Vietnamese troop and supply buildup has been reported in the region just north of the DMZ, and the American warplanes presumably attacked some enemy troop concentrations in addition to anti-aircraft guns, SAM batteries and supply depots.

The raids also were ordered, it was learned, because of heavy North Vietnamese attacks across the DMZ last month in which the entire line of allied defenses guarding the buffer zone dividing the Vietnamese came under attack.

In another development, the South Vietnamese military command claimed that government forces backed by U.S. helicopter gunships and a 7th Fleet destroyer killed 588 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in a week of fighting in the U Minh forest.

There were no reports of fresh action there today.

The claim of 588 enemy troops killed represents about 13 per cent of the 4,400 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong combat troops said to be operating in the U Minh, in the Mekong Delta's Ca Mau peninsula.

DICK MOORE and ROYCE PENDERGRASS

Third District Livestock Show President Dick Moore, and Royce Pendergrass of the Red River Vocational School spoke to the Lions Club Monday during the weekly luncheon at the Town and Country on the 3rd District Livestock Show starting Monday, September 27.

The 3rd District Show actually includes seventeen counties but for a long time participation by other counties has been light and the speakers said that special efforts have been made to insure a more general participation this year.

The first day will feature F.F.A. events starting at 9:30 with twenty six to twenty eight contests in skills and crafts. The annual parade is set for 4:00 p.m. and Frank Douglas will be Parade Marshal. Governor Bumpers and other dignitaries have been invited to be present for the occasion.

Monday night the F.F.A. will present their talent and novelty show, the F.F.A. Jamboree. During the day, Tuesday will be devoted to judging of beef cattle and the beauty contest for Show Queen will take place Tuesday evening. Wednesday is set for swine judging.

The rodeo will start Thursday night and continue through Saturday night.

Much work is going on at the show grounds with students from the vocational school making repairs on buildings and equipment. The city street department is making asphalt repairs and oiling some areas to hold down the dust.

Agri teachers from all around Hope have been working to make a better day for F.F.A. and 4-H young people and to honor their good work and activities as contrasted to student rebellions and riots that take up so much space in the news.

Committee chairman David Still announced the annual light bulb sale and handed out work assignments for the event of October 4, Monday night.

There were no guests other than the speakers who brought the program.

Group Says DDT No Problem Immediately

WASHINGTON (AP) — A panel of scientists says the pesticide DDT poses no imminent threat of widespread human sickness or death, but is likely to bring a gradual deterioration of the environment.

The scientists recommended Monday that use of DDT be phased out for all but public health emergencies. But they stopped short of calling for the immediate ban many environmentalists would like.

"DDT and its derivatives are serious environmental pollutants and present a substantial threat to the quality of human environment . . ." a report made to the Environmental Protection Agency said.

"There is, therefore, an imminent hazard to human welfare in terms of maintaining healthy desirable flora and fauna in man's environment," the report said.

The report was made by a team of scientists named last April by William D. Ruckelshaus, EPA administrator. The committee said the amount of DDT used in the United States has been reduced by more than half during the past decade, from about 70 million pounds to 30 million in 1969.

"The present reported annual usage level of DDT does not present an imminent hazard to human health in terms of individual bodily functions and safety," the committee said.

A spokesman for the Environmental Defense Fund, Inc., which had helped initiate law suits against the government for a DDT ban, said the report's conclusions were ambiguous.

"It still leaves unanswered, specifically, whether DDT is legally an imminent hazard to humans," he said. Selective curbs have been levied against DDT the past two years, but the main use of the chemical, for insect control on cotton, is still permitted by federal regulations.

Six Arrested for Gambling by the FBI

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Six persons were arrested Monday by the FBI in connection with alleged illegal gambling operations in North Little Rock.

Herbert Hoxie, special agent in charge of the Little Rock FBI office, said Monday night that the six arrests "all stem out of the Diamond Club operation."

The Eastern District of the Grand Jury investigated in a special session last week apparent gambling activities at the 609 Club, which is also known as the Diamond Club.

Hoxie identified those charged as Harold Fred Dunaway, 66, of near North Little Rock; Cyrus J. Lytle, 60, of North Little Rock; Edgar A. Higginson, 51, of Las Vegas, Nev.; Raymond G. Jones, 53, of West Memphis and James P. Devine, 46, of Hot Springs.

A sixth man also charged, Howard Lytle, 30, of North Little Rock is being held in the Pulaski County Jail on charges of first-degree murder.

All six have been charged with operating an illegal casino-type gambling operation in North Little Rock under the Illegal Gambling Business Section of the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970.

Mayor Casey Laman of North Little Rock said he was not surprised at the arrests.

"After 14½ years of being mayor, there's nothing that would surprise me about anything happening in North Little Rock," he said.

On the other hand, Police Chief Reo Bowman of North Little Rock expressed surprise at the indictments even though he had been called before the Grand Jury last week.

He said he had heard rumors of gambling at the club but had checked the building and had not found anything.

"I have checked out rumors and never did turn up anything," he said.

The FBI said the arrests "culminated an extensive investigation by the FBI... in various cities in Arkansas and Las Vegas."

U.S. Atty. W. H. Dillahunty has recommended $5,000 bond in each case.

Jones is being held in the St. Francis County Jail in Forrest City; Dunaway and Lytle are being held in Little Rock; Devine in Hot Springs and Higginson in Las Vegas.

Claims Bank Got Free Use of Money

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Banking Committee has called for an investigation of the transaction in which the Treasury Department gave the nation's second largest bank free use of nearly $39 million to make up earnings on money the bank lost through its own bookkeeping error.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said Monday the transaction indicated a "close buddy-buddy relationship between the Treasury Department and the First National City Bank of New York."

"It is the kind of relationship," Patman added, "the average citizen—the taxpayer—does not enjoy."

Patman, commenting after the transaction was disclosed by The Associated Press, said he would ask for a full investigation by the General Accounting Office, Congress' fiscal watchdog.

He said he also would insist the bank "return to the federal government any proceeds gained from the use of this money," and would ask the Treasury Department to specify under what legal authority it made the deal which turned National City's mistake into a potential windfall.

The error occurred when National City paid twice on March 3 for an Export-Import Bank, series BB promissory worth $38.8 million. The error went undetected until May 19 when it was discovered by the bank, not the Treasury.

National City immediately notified the Treasury by telegram and the money was returned. The bank also asked for, and got, an additional $38.8 million to use—free of charge—for 2½ months so it could make up for private loans during the period the money was missing.

Subsequently, however, the prime interest rate that banks charge their most favored customers rose from 5.5 per cent to 6 per cent, thus giving National City the chance to make more from the government's money than it would have from its own.

The exact amount the bank made from the money would be difficult to estimate since the bank is not due to repay the Federal Reserve System until Sept. 27. At the prime rate, the bank would have earned a minimum of $582,000. But Treasury officials said it could earn far more on quick turnover loans to smaller customers at a much higher rate.

Disturbance at New Orleans Prison Halted

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A sheriff's deputy at Orleans Parish Prison, where some inmates set fire and created a disturbance that lasted for hours Monday night, said today "it's all over" and "the situation is stable."

The deputy, who declined to be named, said the "prison population is under control. The prison administration never lost control."

There were no reports of serious injuries.

Officials were not available for details on how many of the 900 inmates in the three-story facility participated in the trouble, or what sparked it.

However, there has been a recent series of protests at the old facility, with prisoners describing living conditions as inhumane.

The trouble apparently began Monday night in one cell block on the top floor, where prisoners set fire to mattresses and banged on the iron bars. A fire department snorkel truck shot water into the windows. Prisoners smashed glass windows and dropped debris—some of it afire—into a courtyard. They could be heard cursing and yelling. "Power to the people!" and "Burn, baby, burn!" Some displayed foot-long knives at the windows.

The Rev. Peter Rogers, fire department chaplain, said he and another chaplain went with deputies into one cell tier where the smoke was thickest and coaxed the inmates out.

"There were many who wanted out badly," he said. "There

Cache River Drainage Opposed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Game and Fish Commission went on record Monday as opposing any further drainage in the proposed Cache River-Bayou Deview Drainage Project because of the effect the project would have on the environment.

Wildlife and conservation groups have fought the drainage project because of the impact they say the project will have in a nine-county area in Northeast Arkansas.

The commission approved a motion opposing any further drainage in the area because of the ecological and environmental damage commission members say the project will have.

The commission modified a hard stance against the project during a July meeting. The commission said it would drop its opposition to the project when the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers carried through a proposed "Fish and Wildlife Mitigation Plan."

Under the plan, the federal government would buy 30,000 acres in the project area and turn it over to the Game and Fish Commission as a wildlife management area.

Commissioners objected to reports that the engineers had appropriated funds for the project and that bids were to be let.

Commissioner Lloyd McCollum of Stuttgart said he felt this was in conflict with the commission stand because nothing had been done yet about the mitigation plan.

The trouble apparently began Monday night in one cell block on the top floor, where prisoners set fire to mattresses and banged on the iron bars. A fire department snorkel truck shot water into the windows.

Prisoners smashed glass windows and dropped debris—some of it afire—into a courtyard. They could be heard cursing and yelling. "Power to the people!" and "Burn, baby, burn!" Some displayed foot-long knives at the windows.

The Shoebox Fortune Still a Puzzle

By MICHAEL ROBINSON
Associated Press Writer
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Paul Powell is gone but the investigation into his mysterious $850,000 "shoebox fortune" lingers on.

The political cronies who rode his coattails out of the dusty poverty stricken Southern Illinois mining towns and into political power wait as three grand juries sort the evidence.

So far, a former Powell business partner and two "foot soldiers" in his now crumbling army of 4,000 patronage workers have been indicted.

Yet, despite rumors that haunt the dim halls of the Statehouse, federal and state investigators who have worked on the case for months have yet to explain Powell's fortune.

When he died, Oct. 10, Powell, 68, was Illinois secretary of state and the only Democrat in the state with the nerve and skill to challenge Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and, sometimes, win.

Two months after he was buried, the executor of his estate announced that Powell had kept a secret $800,000 cash hoard, most of it crammed into shoeboxes, valises and old trunks in a closet of his suite in the St. Nicholas Hotel in Springfield. Later $50,000 more was found in a safety deposit box.

All told, it developed, Powell accumulated during 30 years in the Illinois House and six as secretary of state a fortune valued at more than $3 million. A Democrat who was well acquainted with Powell was asked how he got away with it.

"Got away with it," he snorted. "He didn't get away with it. He was just brazen as hell."

In 1965 a grand jury in Springfield investigated charges that Powell, who was secretary of state was supposed to enforce trucking regulation, was allowing some truckers to skirt or ignore the rules.

At the time, it was charged that Powell and others had been operating a company that sold mud guards and French tires to truckers.

"If any state's attorney anywhere can find anything wrong," Powell drawled, "I want to know about it."

The investigation fizzled, but this year a partner in the now defunct firm, Seymour Emalfarb of Highland Park, was indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of using means of extortion to force a trucking company to buy tires from Powell.

Powell, a sponsor of numerous bills dear to the racing lobby also came under fire for his purchase of stock at the discount price of 10 cents per share in Chicago Downs race track. He acknowledged reaping huge dividends on the deal but added, "My only mistake was that I didn't buy more."

Through all the controversy, Powell's flamboyant style and flair for cornball humor kept him going.

Bertha Chan, the other co-chairman, said her group is seeking state accreditation for the schools, which charge $5 per child per semester. Teachers are mostly volunteer housewives, she said, who get a "token fee."

Wong said the group hopes eventually to raise sufficient money from parents and local merchants to pay the staff regular salaries.

Some 30 classes covering grades one through six are operating on double sessions, using surplus textbooks donated by the state.

Mrs. Chan explained that because each child is in the schools only 2½ hours and the state requires a minimum of three, all pupils are being requested to watch a half-hour of educational television daily.

Thinks China Visit a Silly Act

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A former U.S. ambassador to Japan says President Nixon committed "a very silly act" by arranging a trip to Communist China without consulting beforehand with the Japanese government.

Dr. Edwin O. Reischauer, American envoy to Tokyo from 1961 to 1966 and now professor of East Asian studies at Harvard University, said Monday night in an interview, "Nixon has got himself in a pile of

Flood Aid for Residents of New Jersey

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of New Jersey residents who live in a federally-declared disaster area have found themselves ineligible for federal aid to restore their flood-ravaged houses.

President Nixon declared the state a disaster area after floods caused by Hurricane Doria Aug. 27-28 ravaged a wide area. Though the White House made $20 million available for disaster relief, many residents have since discovered they don't qualify for it.

The reason is a provision of the Flood Insurance Act which says if the federally subsidized insurance has been available in a community for one year, residents who haven't bought policies are not eligible for the bulk of federal disaster assistance. Low income families are exempt from the provision.

One of the hardest hit cities was Elizabeth with a population of 112,600. Only 20 flood insurance policies were issued since the city joined the program in May 1970.

John Waters, the city's coordinator of federal and state aid, said that about 200 square blocks were flooded Aug. 27, and again when heavy rains came Sept. 12.

He said the flooded area included about 20,000 dwelling units including many single homes in the $25,000 to $35,000 price range.

Asked how many people in Elizabeth were aware they could lose out on low interest federal disaster loans if they failed to buy flood insurance, Waters said, "No one. No one had this knowledge."

He said many insurance agents were reluctant to handle the federally subsidized insurance because the commissions were so low they lost money.

"I've had people tell me, 'I asked my agent and he said there is no such thing,'" said Waters.

Waters had no figure on the total flood damage in Elizabeth but estimated it would run several million dollars.

Richard Philbin, disaster coordinator for the Small Business Administration, agreed with Waters and said 21 New Jersey communities were hit hard by flooding. He estimated the number of ineligible homeowners at "thousands throughout the state."

"We just can't do anything for them," he said.

trouble with the Japanese."

"It is preposterous to go to Peking when no American president has ever visited Japan," he said. "Japan is going through a major transition with very serious doubts about us. They think that if Nixon did not think about them in this matter, what will he do next? It was very bad manners."

Reischauer, in Kansas City tonight, said he did not disagree with the advisability of Nixon's Peking visit, which the President has said he will make before next May.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. GRANT BYERS

Miss Linda Morrison became the bride of Grant Byers in a candlelight service, Thursday night, August 26, in the First United Methodist Church of Lancaster, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Morrison of Lancaster and the granddaughter of Mrs. Marie Craven of Pine Bluff. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daly Byers of Lancaster and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Byers of Hope.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length of white organza and nylon lace, designed with an oval neckline, short puffed sleeves and a band of light blue organza enhanced with lace accenting the empire waistline. Her cathedral train of lace was accented with light blue streamers and her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a lace petal headpiece edged with seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of white carnations centered with an orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Jerry Higginbotham, sister of the bride, of Mineral Wells, Texas. Bridesmaids were the Misses Cheryl Byers, sister of the bridegroom, Joan Mohony, and Jan Wison. Chris Morrison, sister of the bride, was flower girl. The attendants wore floor length gowns of blue and white dotted swiss featuring puff sleeves and empire waistlines accented with white lace. They wore blue picture hats with white streamers and carried white baskets filled with white and blue daisies.

Jerry Higginbotham was best man and groomsmen included Mike Hartley, Kieth Ballance and Greg Gant. Ushers were Mike Ballance, and Patrick and David Morrison, both brothers of the bride. Ricky Byers, cousin of the groom was candlelighter and John Foster, Hope, also cousin of the groom was the ring bearer.

Nuptial music was presented by Miss Carol Atkinson, organist.

A reception was held at the fellowship hall and featured a blue and white decor. Members of the house party were Mrs. Gary Punkoney, Misses Marilyn and Nancy Morrison, all sisters of the bride, Mrs. Perry Foster, Hope, and Miss Debbie Byers, both cousins of the groom.

After a brief trip, the couple will make their home in Commerce where the bridegroom is a senior at East Texas State University.

Saturday, September 25

Game Night will be held at the Hope Country Club Saturday September 25 at 7 p.m. Host couples are: Mr. and Mrs. Jim James, Bob Nason, Larry Redlich and David Still. Reservations must be made by Friday, September 24.

Garden Club Council Meets

The Hope Council of Garden Clubs met Monday, September 13, in the Chamber of Commerce Conference Room with Mrs. W. I. Stroud, president, in charge of the business session. Eight members answered the roll call, and the president listed the following officers and appointed the committee chairmen for 1971-72.

Council officers are president, Mrs. W. I. Stroud; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Houston Gunter; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Royce Weisenburger; secretary, reporter and publicity, Mrs. Otis Taylor; treasurer, Mrs. Doyle Shields; historian, Mrs. Pauline B. Walker; parliamentarian, Mrs. Ned Ray Purdie. Club presidents are Gardenia, Mrs. David Waddie; Iris, Mrs. W. I. Stroud; Lilac, Mrs. Pauline B. Walker; Rose, Mrs. Houston Gunter.

Council committee chairmen are: September Luncheon, Mrs. Charles Carey, Gardenia Garden Club; City Beautification, Mrs. Harold Stephens; Conservation and Speech Contest Topic, "Will Solid Waste Bury Us?", Mrs. Tom Watson; Flower Show, all club presidents; Garden Therapy, Mrs. James H. Black; Junior Garden Clubs, Mrs. Ted Price; Litter Bug, Mrs. Bennett Wood; Telephone, Mrs. Ned Purdie; Ways and Means, Mrs. L. C. Crow; Yard of the Month, Mrs. Charles Carey.

Circle No. 3 Meets

Circle No. 3 of the First United Methodist Church met Monday in the home of Mrs. Royce Weisenburger.

The meeting opened with prayer by the leader and a business meeting conducted.

Mrs. B. W. Edwards gave an interesting program on Community Service.

During the social hour the hostess served sweet rolls and coffee to 12 members and one guest, Mrs. Vivian Andrews.

Daffodil Club Meets

"Cosmetics" was the program theme when the Daffodil Garden Club met Thursday afternoon, September 16 in the home of Mrs. John Gambs with Mrs. Jud Martindale, co-hostess. A guest, Mrs. Mary Arnold, demonstrated the proper use of cosmetics and gave a facial to Mrs. Gambs to illustrate her talk.

Club president, Mrs. Martindale, welcomed the 11 members and one guest, Mrs. Jim Tate and conducted a routine business meeting. The hostesses served Million Dollar Pie and coffee for refreshments.

Friday Bridge

Mrs. Tom Kinser used roses to decorate her home on September 17 when she entertained her Friday Bridge Club. High scorer was Mrs. R. E. Jackson. After an enjoyable afternoon, the hostess served pie and coffee for refreshments to the club members.

Introduction To American Art

A HISTORY OF AMERICAN PAINTING. By Matthew Baigell. Praeger. $9.95.

Baigell's book is a good solid introductory course covering the whole field of American painting.

In order to cover the entire 300 years of this subject in less than 300 pages — and that includes more than 200 illustrations, many of them in color — he has had to be selective and he has had to pack a great deal of information and interpretation into a limited space.

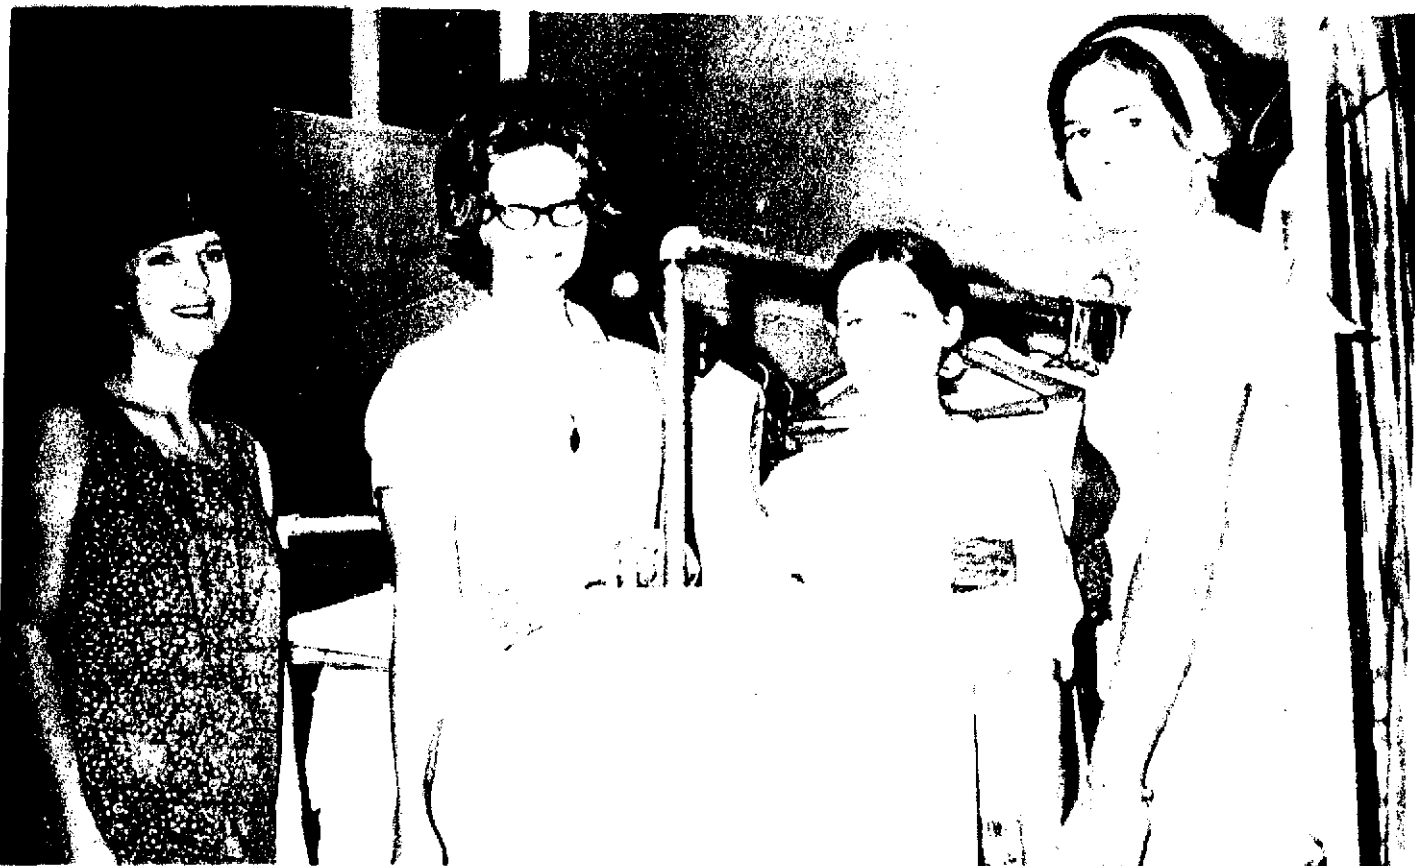

His text is less inclusive than some previous works, such as E. P. Richardson's 1956 volume "Painting in America," but Baigell has deliberately concentrated on the significant artists, dropping many that could have deserved only a passing mention in any book.

All the schools and periods — any one of which could be the subject of a separate book — are here, and the author has used good judgment in choosing which artists to emphasize.

The final chapter on the reaction away from abstract expressionism, through Pop Op. Hardegree and Minimal, consists of only 21 pages, but it gives an understandable perspective to what has been going on in recent years.

Hempstead Homemakers Serve as Judges

These local judges have received training by the Extension Service to select and judge quality. Their purpose in judging was to help better homemaking standards and make the fairs an educational experience for the exhibitors. Products judged by the homemakers included baking, canning, household arts, flowers, and clothing.

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

THE JOKER MAKES HER WILD

Dear Sue and Helen:

I wrote to this guy in Vietnam for five months, and though we never met (it was one of those pen-pal thingies) he got pretty amorous, saying we'd be together when he was discharged in late October, etc. Call me dumb, but I kind of fell for him, after we exchanged pictures.

Then one day I got a letter from his "pal," saying he'd been killed. Being suspicious, I compared handwritings, and all the capital letters were the same, which means my "boy friend" and his "pal" were the same person, though he'd tried to camouflage.

I checked with some relatives in his home town and found out he's not only alive but married and has a two-year-old son. I was just somebody to string along and hand a bunch of bull, and now he's coming home, he has to lose me fast. I guess he was afraid my letters might be forwarded to the U.S.

Should I pay him back and send the letter on to his wife? Plus all the other lovey-dovey stuff he wrote me? —FURIOUSLY MAD AND HURT Dear Mad and Hurt:

What a creep! But don't take it out on his wife.

You never really knew the joker, so you haven't really been hurt. Why not send a sympathy card to him saying, "Better wed than dead—probably," and forget him? —SUE

Dear M and H: ...And be glad you lost this "bull" game! —HELEN

Dear H and S: When I wrote to HHU before Sue came in and you started your joint column, I always thought of you as "Dear Helen," but now I wonder if I should write, "Dear Mrs. B. and Sue," "Dear Sue and Her Mother," "Dear Mom and Daughter" or what? —UNSURE

Dear Unsure: Whatever you call us—from "Dear Bottels" to "Hi, You Two, - we won't complain, so long as you keep calling on us. —HELEN AND SUE

Dear Helen and Sue: Please tell some of these males that they are making fools of themselves. They are NOT irresistible, either in school or on the way home. What kind of conceited dodos would honk, whistle and pull up to the curb, insinuating that girls should hop right in the car?

These sex fiend chauffeurs and wolf-whistlers should join the circus where they could make idiots of themselves and get paid for it. —UNIMPRESSED

Dear Un:

Somehow, I've always thought that a wolf whistle, like the Italian pinch, was a form of compliment. You don't need to "hop in the car," naturally, but does a little good-natured banter among high school students really hurt? —HELEN

Dear Unimpressed:

There are whistlers and WHISTLERS. (Remember,

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — After all the hectic dial flipping last week as the three networks unreeled their new series, there was the pleasant prospect of getting back to some old Monday night friends.

Starting with "Gunsmoke," there were signs of change. Marshal Dillon and friends seemed to be taking an extra week off—Matt and Festus had bit parts. Glenn Corbett played an ex-convict committed to kill a former lawman who had wounded and arrested his prison cellmate. The plot concentrated on the would-be hired killer, his elderly quarry and the latter's young wife.

It is unusual for series regulars to remove themselves so completely from the action, but it was not a bad idea. "Gunsmoke" after all these seasons remains good meat-and-potatoes television fare.

"Here's Lucy" followed on CBS, opening the network's two-hour block of half hour situation comedies. Nothing has changed in the perennially successful Lucille Ball comedy format although her second show of the new season was hardly the comedienne's proudest 30 minutes. It was a bit of nonsense that had Tony Randall posturing around as a health food and exercise freak who persuaded Lucy to climb a mountain.

Some new people are around the office in this season's revised "Doris Day Show"—mostly a grumpy boss—and Doris who used to be called "Mrs. Martin" is now "Miss Martin." But the situation still appears light and girlishly funny. The story had her and Billy de Wolfe, who still plays her testy neighbor, arrested for a jewelry store burglary. She was not around the office much so Doris' switch to bachelor girl after three seasons as the mother of two was not particularly noticeable.

"My Three Sons" which now follows the Day show is a newcomer in the Monday night lineup. It and "Arnie" which winds up the evening are designed to appeal to young and older audiences and previously appeared in time periods when these groups dominated the audiences.

The Fred MacMurray comedy series was in the middle of a three-part story involving a look-alike cousin of father Stephen Douglas, a Scotsman also played by MacMurray. It is a pleasant show that might be easy to wander away from except that the opposition on one side is half way through a theatrical movie and, on the other, half way through a football game.

"Arnie," seems to be moving toward broad comedy after a season of poking gentle fun at the business community. Charles Nelson Reilly roared into the picture Monday as "the Giddyap Gourmet," a television chef given to dropping the salami and banging his head on pans. Herschel Bernardi in the title role, had little to do except play straight man to Reilly.

Like "My Three Sons," it is a pretty good program but seems to be in the wrong time period.

Coined Phrase

Two Chicago baseball players, Billy Sunday and Joe Quest, are generally credited with coining the phrase, "Charley horse," for a muscle strain in the leg, after a horse they backed in a race pulled up lame near the finish line.

Upsets Are Talk of Pro Grid Circles

What was behind the rash of surprises on Sunday's explosive opening day of the National Football League season? Was it the influx of good rookies or was it just one of those days for the underdog? Tom Landry, coach of the Dallas Cowboys, one of the few favored teams to come through by beating Buffalo, and Tommy Prothro, coach of the Los Angeles Rams, one of the victims, believe it's the rookies.

"I think it's just the blend of talent throughout the league," Landry said in response to an Associated Press survey. "More rookies, good rookies, are playing and doing well. This tends to keep the balance of power from tipping too much in one direction."

"The bottom teams can strengthen themselves in a year or two through the draft enough to be competitive."

"The draft is making all teams more equal," said Prothro, whose debut as a pro coach was spoiled by the New Orleans Saints' astounding 24-20 victory.

It was rookie quarterback Archie Manning of the Saints who engineered the defeat of the Rams. He got the winning touchdown on the last play of the game on an end run from the one.

"We just put our exhibition record behind us," said Jim Plunkett, another prize rookie QB, whose two second half touchdowns gave the New England Patriots a 20-6 upset over the Oakland Raiders, defending American Conference champions.

"We read in the papers all week we were 17-point favorites," commented defensive end Ben Davidson of the Raiders. "If you read that sort of stuff too long you begin to believe it. We were flat."

"You lost a game you were supposed to win and somebody always says you were flat," said Raider Coach John Madden. "Were we flat when we missed a gimme field goal? We could have been up 13-0 at the half. Instead we gave them momentum. We didn't plan to start our season this way."

"We were very happy to see it," said Sid Gillman, San Diego coach, referring to Oakland's defeat. He had no comment on his Chargers upsetting Kansas City.

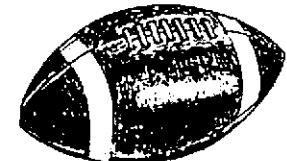

Veteran quarterback John Brodie of San Francisco took "all the blame" for the 49ers surprise defeat by the Atlanta Falcons who were helped greatly by another rookie, cornerback Tom Hayes.

"If I'd played medium bad we'd have won big," said Brodie who was intercepted four times. "I just turned in a stinking performance."

Miami was held to a 10-10 tie by Denver and Don Shula, coach of the Dolphins, commented: "I'd have to say we were fortunate to tie."

Shula didn't blame his opening day problems on the exhibition season. "We've been playing six exhibitions as long as I can remember. Should we start questioning the system now?"

The Minnesota Vikings escaped Old Man Upset by coming from behind to defeat Detroit 16-13 Monday night on Fred Cox's nine-yard field goal late in the final quarter.

McLain Failed in Bid for Two Games

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer

"This was the first chance I'd ever had to win two games in one night," Denny McLain said. He'd have been better off stopping after one.

McLain pitched four innings of relief Monday to chalk up his 10th triumph of the season as the Washington Senators scored a 20-inning 8-6 victory over Cleveland in the conclusion of a game suspended after 16 innings in Cleveland last Tuesday night with the teams tied 5-5.

Then Denny started Monday night's regularly scheduled game against the Indians and pitched eight innings of five-hit ball—but ended up on the short end of a 3-1 score and absorbed his 21st loss.

In the only other American League games, the Baltimore Orioles whipped the New York Yankees 8-4 and the Milwaukee Brewers blanked the Minnesota Twins 3-0.

Philadelphia's two-night doubleheader at Montreal, the only action on the National League slate, was rained out.

"The night wasn't a waste," McLain commented after failing to gain the twin wins. "All along I thought about the club as well as myself. I'd like to have done it for (Senators owner) Bob Short. I love this guy."

Then, turning to today's scheduled meeting of American League owners—in which Short is expected to press for permission to move the Senators to the Dallas-Fort Worth area—McLain said: "I don't think Washington should be without a team ... I hope something good comes out of his doings in Boston."

In the 20-inning marathon, the clubs set a major league record for pitchers used in an extra inning game with 18, nine by each team.

The Senators won it as Elliot Maddox walked, Lenny Randle was safe on a fielder's choice and Kurt Bevacqua misplayed Toby Harrah's grounder to let

in. Dave Nelson's single and Tom McCraw's bases-loaded walk added two more runs.

Alan Foster, Steve Mingori and Steve Hargan teamed for a three-hitter in the regular game and Fred Stanley hit his second home run for the Indians.

The Orioles, reducing to five the number of victories—or Detroit losses—that will clinch the American League East title, erupted for five runs in the ninth inning including the winning one on Bobby Grich's two-run bases-loaded single that gave Pat Dobson his 19th victory.

Skip Lockwood, recording his 10th victory, tamed the Twins on four hits and drove in the only run he needed with a second-inning grounder. Andy Kosco smacked his 10th home run for the Brewers.

Razorbacks Leading in Statistics

DALLAS (AP) — Eddie Phillips, the magic man at the controls of the awesome Texas Triple-Option, became the No. 1 rusher in the Southwest Conference with his 142-yard effort against UCLA last Saturday.

The Longhorns totaled 428 yards rushing against UCLA, third best opening game total in SWC modern-day history. The all-time high was 513 yards by Arkansas against Northwest Louisiana in 1947.

Arkansas holds the lead in total offense with a 548 yards per game average. Arkansas leads in passing offense with 484 yards.

Joe Ferguson, Arkansas' sensational junior quarterback, leads in total offense with an average of 247 yards per game. He has a 64.3 per cent passing percentage.

Texas Christian grabbed the lead in team defense in a 42-0 victory over Texas at Arlington. The Horned Frogs allowed only 81 total yards and the Mavericks were a minus 26 yards rushing.

Horned Frog tight end Lane Bowen grabbed five passes to take the receiving lead.

Field Goal Winner for Vikings

By LARRY PALADINO

Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Errol Mann could kick himself to day—but he might be off target.

Meanwhile, Fred Cox and his Minnesota Vikings teammates, plus their fans, are probably kicking up their heels.

Mann was one of several goats for the Detroit Lions Monday night in their 16-13 National Football League season opening loss to the Vikings before a national television audience and a capacity crowd of 54,418 at Tiger Stadium.

Cox booted a nine-yard field goal with 5:18 remaining to climax a recovery from a 13-0 deficit. He also kicked field goals of 13 and 42 yards while Gary Cuzzo hit Bob Grim with a 45-yard touchdown pass for the Vikings' other score.

Mann muffed a 33-yard field try with seven seconds left in the game which would have tied the game 16-16. Mann also missed field goals of 53 (twice) and 39 yards.

It was the seventh consecutive time Detroit has lost to Central Division rival Minnesota and it marked the Lions' first home opening loss ever.

"It was my fault all the way," Mann moaned in the quiet Lions' dressing room. "I hope to God it never happens again."

"I didn't get a good hit," he said. "I didn't get a good hit all day it was my fault."

Vikings' Coach Bud Grant called Detroit "the toughest defensive team we'll play all year," but such comments undoubtedly won't soothe the pride of disappointed Lions' fans.

Detroit Coach Joe Schmidt, emotionless, observed: "We beat them physically but couldn't put the points on the board."

Lion quarterback Greg Landry, who lost his fourth game in four starts against the Purple Gang, completed only seven of 25 passes for a meager 56 yards, while Detroit runners Mel Farr, Albie Taylor and Steve Owens got 180 yards rushing.

Cornerback Lem Barney was the victim of Grim's touchdown and also fumbled a kickoff on his own 20 with 9½ minutes remaining to hand the winning opportunity to the Vikes.

Cuzzo completed 19 of 32 passes for 232 yards. Grim and Dave Osborn were his prime targets, the first hauling in seven aeriels for 126 yards and the latter five for 40.

Cox's winning kick came several plays after safety Karl Kasulke recovered Barney's fumble at the Lion 20. Five minutes earlier he connected on the 42-yarder, climaxing a 12-play drive from the Minnesota 12.

Detroit jumped to a 10-0 lead with a little luck and the game only six minutes old.

The Lions drove 71 yards with the opening kickoff, with Mann kicking a 20-yard field goal moments after a Landry pass slipped through split end

Larry Walton's hands in the end zone.

Clint Jones fumbled the ensuing kickoff and Craig Cotton recovered for Detroit at the Viking 21.

Four plays and a holding penalty later Landry flipped a three-yard scoring pass to Farr.

Detroit couldn't capitalize on other Minnesota mistakes. Mann missed his 39-yarder moments after Farr's TD and Lion defensive end Larry Hand pounced on Osborn's fumble at the Viking 35.

Following Mann's 38-yard field goal at 10:15 of the second quarter, Minnesota drove from its 34 to the Lions six, then Cox kicked his 13-yarder with six seconds left in the half.

Defense Is Praised by Broyles

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles praised Monday the defensive action by the University of Arkansas against OSU last Saturday in Little Rock.

Arkansas won 31-10. "The offense had too many broken plays and penalties when we were in the scoring zone," Broyles said. "Overall the defense had an improved game, I feel."

The Razorbacks went through a 90-minute practice in sweat-suits Monday.

Special Probe of NFL Still in Progress

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The special federal grand jury investigating possible antitrust violations in the National Football League was expected to hear testimony today for the second straight day after a summer recess that began last June.

Testifying before the jury Monday were Head Coach Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals; Rommie Loudd, director of player personnel for the New England Patriots, and John Dahany, director of security for the NFL and a former FBI man.

Both Danahy and Loudd refused comment to newsmen, while Brown made a brief comment without actually saying what had been discussed. Danahy did say that he would testify again this afternoon.

The jury began its investigation last November and held sessions off and on until June, hearing from about 40 present and former players and football executives.

Brown spent just over an hour in the jury room, then deftly slipped past a line of reporters and cameramen waiting outside in the rain.

He said only that he didn't have much to tell the jurors because "I was out of it so long," apparently referring to the years he spent out of pro football after being fired as head coach of the Cleveland Browns in 1963.

His remark indicated that the grand jury was not concerned about the operations of the Bengals.

Porkers 7th in the Grid Poll

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Nebraska held onto first place today in The Associated Press college football poll but Notre Dame cut deeply into the Cornhusker's huge lead of one week ago.

Behind the four holdover leaders—Nebraska, Notre Dame, Texas and Michigan—there was a slight reshuffling among the Top Ten, with Auburn climbing from seventh to fifth in the wake of a 60-7 thrashing of UT-Chattanooga.

Nebraska's defending national champions received 32 first-place votes and 1,044 points from a panel of 55 sports writers and broadcasters. Eighteen electors gave the top spot to Notre Dame and the Irish polled 1,002 points.

A week ago Nebraska's lead was 102 points, but the voters apparently were influenced by

Taste Turns Bitter for Rice Players

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Rice football coach Bill Peterson says his Owls were "intoxicated by the sweet taste of defeat" last week after a narrow loss to Houston, but now it's all turned bitter.

"People kept telling us last week how good we looked against Houston," Peterson said after Saturday's 24-0 dunking from powerful Southern Cal. "And I drank from the same cup because I felt they needed encouragement."

"But this time the offensive team was complacent or just had a lack of desire. I'm not pulling any punches about it."

Peterson said the Owls were frustrated at every turn in trying to establish an offensive attack.

"They were giving us a little different look on defense from what he saw against Houston," Peterson said. "But when we tried to take advantage of it, I think we confused ourselves more than we did Southern Cal."

"They were giving us the weak side," he said. "But we couldn't take advantage of it. We had a lot of passes dropped."

The Owls also had five passes intercepted including one in the third quarter that killed Rice's only scoring threat of the night.

Peterson said he called all the plays for quarterback Bruce Gadd and would continue to do so.

"I think this was a great lesson for Gadd," Peterson said. "I don't have any misgiving about him. I think he'll come along and be a good quarterback. But right now he can't have that responsibility (of calling the plays) while we're learning the system."

"From the quarterbacking standpoint, we had three weeks to get ready for Houston and three days to prepare for Southern Cal," Peterson said.

Notre Dame's 50-7 rout of highly regarded Northwestern while Nebraska defeated Minnesota 35-7.

Texas, which opened with a 28-10 triumph over UCLA, received three first-place ballots and 799 points, 49 more than Michigan, which crushed Virginia 56-0. The other two first-place votes went to Auburn, which accumulated 498 points.

That was enough to push see Tigers past idle Ohio State, which fell to sixth with 483 points, only three more than Arkansas, which trimmed Oklahoma State 31-10 but fell one position to seventh, a victim of Auburn's jump.

Alabama trounced Southern Mississippi 42-6 and inched from ninth to eighth with 406 points, changing spots with Tennessee, a 48-6 winner over UC-Santa Barbara, six points back.

Colorado walloped Wyoming 56-13 and went from 12th to 10th, supplanting Oklahoma in the Top Ten although the Sooners drubbed Southern Methodist 30-0.

Oklahoma headed the Second Ten, followed by Penn State, up from 14th to 12th, and Stanford, which remained 13th. Then came Georgia, down three places to 14th, trailed by Arizona State and Southern California, each up one.

Washington, Louisiana State, Toledo and Duke, unranked last week, rounded out the Top Twenty while Syracuse, which had been 15th, Michigan State, South Carolina and Houston dropped out.

The top twenty teams, with first-place votes in parentheses season records and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

1. Nebraska (32)	2-0 1,044
2. Notre Dame (18)	1-0 1,002
3. Texas (3)	1-0 799

Dallas Has Chance for Senators

By DAVID O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — American League owners were set to sit down at the conference table today to discuss, and possibly act upon, the baseball future of Bob Short and his financially troubled Washington Senators.

President Nixon, business and civic leaders in the Dallas-Fort Worth area and groups desiring to keep the Senators in Washington awaited news from the league meeting called by President Joe Cronin.

"I do hope something can be worked out so major league baseball does not leave Washington," Nixon told White House reporters.

Short was non-committal on whether he plans to seek a franchise transfer, sell the club or remain in Washington by some means. He claims he has lost $3 million since purchasing the Senators in 1968.

The controversial owner would need nine of the 12 votes, including his own, to receive permission to move. However, he said he did not know whether he would receive such sanction and indicated he may sell.

"I may be the owner when the meeting begins, but probably not when it ends," Short said.

Despite reported offers to buy, Short contended before the meeting "there is no such thing as an offer on the table." He paid $9.5 million for the Senators, outbidding a group which included comedian Bob Hope, and is seeking to recoup his losses.

Joseph Danzansky, president of the Washington Board of Trade, reportedly has offered $9.5 million for the club. The Dallas-Fort Worth group is willing to either buy the club or accept it on a franchise transfer with Short still in control.

The Buffalo Evening News quoted a Washington public relations man Monday night as saying a syndicate would offer $9.4 million for the club with intentions to keep it in the nation's capital.

Edward M. Kelly Jr., former board member of the Buffalo Bisons in the International League, said "three Washington law firms and an investment house are involved in our plan for community ownership."

After Short lured Hall of Famer Ted Williams back into baseball as manager of the Senators, Washington's home attendance soared to 978,106 in 1969. However, it slipped to 824,789 last year and will not reach 700,000 this season.

State Coach Visions a Bruiser

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State University Coach Bill Davidson predicted Monday a "bruising battle" for the Indians Saturday as they meet Northeast Louisiana.

Davidson said the Tribe spent Monday working on Northeast Louisiana's offensive and defensive plans. He said the emphasis of the hour and 15-minute practice session was on the Indians' passing and kicking game.

The Indians opened their season last Saturday with a 16-14 victory over Wichita.

All-American Bill Phillips, who was injured in that game, underwent surgery Monday for a broken ankle and ligament damage. School officials said he would be out for the rest of the season.

Hanging Out College Grid Wash

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash:
It is typical of John Ralston that, having been deeply hurt by a searing article written by Tim McClure, a member of last year's Stanford football team,
he refuses to issue a rebuttal.
Instead, he insists that "the important thing is to protect the boy."

If you twist his arm a little,
Ralston will softly point out a number of inaccuracies in the article, which appears today in the soon-to-be-buried Look Magazine.

All the while, though, as if it is more painful to offer his own side of the matter than to be the victim of the scathing attack, Ralston will insist that "in anything I say for print I don't want Tim to appear the heavy. He's a good boy; there's nothing vindictive about him."

In his blast at Ralston, Stanford and longtime college football in general, McClure makes the following charges:

—Some players took amphetamines at halftime of the 1971 Rose Bowl victory over Ohio State—without Ralston's knowledge.

—Football is a business, not fun.

—Ralston so despised long hair that when one player, Steve Jubb, hurt an ankle playing rugby in the off-season, the football trainer refused to treat him until he got a haircut.

—Ralston "hired a troop of professional incentive builders to psych us up" for the 1970
opener against Arkansas.

—Ralston threatened to resign when the players demanded an end to a two-day practices in preparation for the Rose Bowl.

—When we were playing Washington State ... I wrecked my knee ... After that, I was just a piece of broken machinery as far as the coaching staff was concerned.
Not even my defensive line
coach stopped by the hospital to say hello."

"Coaches," says Ralston,
"live in glass houses. I've been called a SOB before but"—this with a grin—"usually by the alumni. I guess I owe him an apology if I offended him. I've got broad shoulders, so make me the heavy and the hell with it."

The 44-year-old coach would be the last to deny that football is a business, not with a coach's job depending on the won-lost record and not on how much character he builds.

"I've coached for 20 years at every level," he says. "I've touched thousands of boys and I know that 99 per cent of the ones I've touched I've done something for them. Football is a great game, a super game, but it's not for everybody. It's only for a group of guys who enjoy combative sports. Tim McClure wasn't forced to play."

The part about hair is dispelled with a cursory glance at the Stanford players. Tight end
Bill Scott and defensive backs
Pat Moore and Randy Pot exactly the crewcut type.

Ralston won't refute the "professional incentive builders," nor does he want to.
"I'm a nut on self-improvement, self-imagery," he says.
"In fact, I'm an accredited Dale Carnegie instructor. I get kidded about that a lot."

Ralston didn't give in when the players asked out of the two-day practices. "I felt we needed it. It was an obsession to win the Rose Bowl, but I'm coaching much more relaxed

this year."

McClure was correct, however, when he says his defensive line coach didn't visit him in the hospital. But Ralston did.
Twice. And Mrs. Ralston spent the evening of the UCLA game with McClure in the hospital, listening to the game with him on the radio. And Ralston's twin daughters baked cookies and took them to the hospital.

Auburn's Pat Sullivan completed 13 of 16 passes against Chattanooga Saturday but it could easily have been a perfect day. Two passes were dropped and on the other in-completion the receiver ran a broken pattern.

Bob Blackman has had a rough welcome to the Big Ten.
His Illinois team has been shut out by Michigan State and North Carolina, which is ironic because the team he left behind at Dartmouth hasn't been blanked in 90 games, best such active streak in the country.

There are other differences.
"The third week at Dar-mouth," Blackman says, "I'd normally have a practice scrimmage. This year I was facing Michigan State."

Blackman also is finding out that football is football and Ivy League football, which he always defended, is better than most people think.

"I always said some Ivy Leaguers could play for any team in the country, and now I think
I was a little bit conservative.
There were some second-stringers at Dartmouth who could make the traveling squad
here."

While speed, or the lack thereof, played no small part in the outcome, once again it was a harsh and untimely miscue that dealt the Raiders the knockout
blow.

Tech recovered from a 10-0 deficit to tie the score in the
final period, and quarterback

Tech Coach Says Texas Is Better

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer
LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Texas
Tech faces Texas in the Southwest Conference football opener
Saturday with Red Raider coach Jim Carlen convinced the Longhorns are "better than last year."

"I sure don't know where they're weaker," Carlen said grimly after watching Texas lobber UCLA 28-10 in Saturday's nationally televised contest.

"I think they're better than last year, due to the speed factor," he continued. "That's what people don't realize. You can't make speed. You can talk about it, but you can't make it."

Carlen said New Mexico's swiftness coupled with his own team's lack of speed contributed largely to the Raiders' second straight loss Saturday night.

Joe Hartshorne's 33-yard field goal with three seconds left lifted the Lobos to a 13-10 triumph and extended Tech's losing streak to four dating back to 1970.

While speed, or the lack there-
of, played no small part in the
outcome, once again it was a
harsh and untimely miscue that
dealt the Raiders the knockout
blow.

Tech recovered from a 10-0
deficit to tie the score in the
final period, and quarterback
Charles Napper propelled the Raiders toward what loomed as the winning score.

However, Napper fumbled at the end of a first-down, 12-yard run with five minutes left, and the Lobos recovered 16 yards shy of their goal.

With 2:20 left, New Mexico drove into range for the killer field goal.

A week earlier, a blocked punt
in the closing minutes enabled Tulane to capture a 15-9 verdict at New Orleans after Tech appeared on the verge of victory.

"We made the one mistake that beat us here, and we made the one mistake at Tulane, and that beat us," Carlen said.
"We're just not good enough to make those mistakes."

If there's one thing he and Texas coach Darrell Royal agree upon, it is that the Raiders could be 2-0 instead of 0-2 entering the key clash at Austin.

Royal said Monday Tech could have both games with a
"bounce or two" in its favor.

"We're not getting the breaks and we're not winning the close ones," Carlen said. A year ago, he said, the Raiders were winning the close ones.

"We've got to get some breaks to win a ballgame against some good people," he said.

Asked if he planned anything
special for Texas, Carlen said,
"Our abilities limit us" from any overall changes.

"You can't just wave a magic wand," he added, and produce a defense that will contain such backs as Eddie Phillips, Jim Bertelsen, Bobby Callison and Don Burrisik.

He paused a moment and sighed. "We've got our hands full, haven't we?"

Miss Goolagong
Turns Down
Pro Offer

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)— Vince Edwards, coach and guardian to Wimbledon champion Evonne Goolagong, Tuesday said his charge would not accept an offer of $56,000 to play on a professional women's tennis circuit in the United States.

The offer was made by Gladys
Heldman, of World Tennis Magazine and one of the forces behind the women's tour sponsored by Virginia Slims.

Had Miss Goolagong and her coach decided to accept the offer, it would have placed her at odds with both the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia and the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

The Australian organization could have suspended her and prevented her from defending her title at Wimbledon and playing other major tournament such as the U.S., French and Australian Opens.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS
"Pullmans" were railroad sleeping cars named after George M. Pullman, a cabinetmaker, who built the first modern sleeping car in 1858. The World Almanac says In 1867, he formed the Pullman Palace Car Company which improved the comfort of its cars revolutionizing transcontinental rail trips in America.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Surgery Is Effective Treatment

Acne Scars Can Be Removed

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb: My son, who is 2 years old, had acne when he was younger. Now his chest is full of scars that are hideous and he is very much ashamed of them. He went to a dermatologist, who said they were "keloids." The dermatologist gave him radium treatments, but they did not help. Is there anything that can be done about removing these keloids or scars? If so, how long will he be in the hospital? I would appreciate any help from you.

Dear Reader—Some plastic surgeons differentiate between large, overgrown scars (hypertrophic scars) keloids. A keloid begins when healing of injured skin occurs. It can form a skin tumor. Depending upon the location and size, it can be unattractive. New keloids can form where the old ones are cut out, particularly in young people. At older ages, keloids are less likely to recur.

The most effective treatment is surgical removal and, in selected cases, X ray to the skin area over the new incisions.

Yes, the scars you describe can be removed, at least in certain cases. Your son would need to see a plastic surgeon. After he has examined your son, he could determine if he had a reasonable chance of improving his situation or not. You can locate a plastic surgeon through your family doctor or through your county or state medical society.

Dear Dr. Lamb: I have a question about having the tubes tied in a woman. I had been told by some people who should know that you clip the tubes, or the membrane, but some women where I work say you can let this done in a doctor's office and that the doctor literally ties the tubes in a knot. Since I am thinking about having it done, I would like to know.

Dear Reader: The common classical method is to cut the tube near the uterus completely. The two cut ends are then tied shut in such a way that they are not likely to rejoin. This is done on both sides and is often done at the time of a cesarean section.

Sectioning the tube is analogous to cutting the smaller tubes that drain the testicles, called the vas deferens in the male. The abdomen has to be cut out to tie the tubes in a woman. There are some studies now in progress to do the procedure through a small incision, sort of through the abdominal wall near the uterus.

JACOBY MODERN uses DOPI to show aces against Blackwood interference. If you can't remember: Double with zero, pass with one and bid with two or more. Just bear in mind that you double to say, "I don't think we have slam." You pass to say, "I think we may have slam" and you bid to say, "I'm sure we have slam."

If you want to use DOPE, which is "Double odd—pass even," DIPO, which is "Double one—pass zero," or DEPO, which is "Double even—pass odd," you will be in some expert company but we strongly favor the very simple and effective JACOBY MODERN DOPI.

Sometimes your opponent will really jam you by jumping to the stratosphere. In that case you may not be able to show two or more aces but you can still do something to help your partner decide on the final contract. You simply double to suggest penalizing your opponents. You pass to suggest a further bid by your partner.

North decides that his spade void may make it possible for South to score a grand slam so he passes the six spade interference. South concludes that North holds just about what he does and takes the plunge. East and West can save at seven spades but they pass in the hope that their opponents have gone one trick too high.

bus while she was standing on the sidewalk between a fire hydrant and an electric light pole. Yet, even though both the hydrant and the pole were at the very edge of the curb, neither of these objects was even scratched.

Applying common sense, the court concluded that the woman herself must have been at fault. The judge said that, at least for a brief instant and a brief distance, she must have leaned out of her safety zone on the sidewalk, into the danger zone on the street.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—How does touch football differ from regular football?
A—It differs in that the ball carrier can be "downed" merely by touching him. It can be played by almost any number of players and on a field of almost any size.

Q—Is the Bible on which George Washington took the oath of office as the first president of the United States, extant?
A—This famous Bible is now owned by a Masonic lodge in New York City.

Texas May Have Preview of Future

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) — For the first time since Texas installed the wishbone-T offense, the Longhorns may have gotten a preview last week of how an opponent will try to stop their powerful running attack.
Coach Darrell Royal told a news conference Monday that New Mexico, which whipped Texas Tech 13-10 Saturday, used the wishbone offense the entire game.
"It helps us" to know how Tech lined up defensively against the wishbone, "But it helps them, too, because they've had two weeks to prepare for it (the wishbone)."
Royal warned that the Longhorns were going to have to cut out some of the "lazy steps" they took in beating UCLA, 28-10, Saturday. He was pleased overall with Texas' performance except the failure to rush the UCLA passer.
His main concern this week is quarterback Eddie Phillips' right big toe, which is so sore he can't walk on it, Royal said.
Royal said he talked to Phillips just prior to the news conference at which he told sports writers, "Phillips has a sprained toe that he can hardly walk on. It's in bad-looking shape, swollen and inflamed. This type of injury just doesn't come around quickly. It might be three, four or five weeks."
Royal also said Phillips pulled his leg muscle again in rushing for 142 yards against UCLA Saturday and "it is much more sore and tender than ever before."
Phillips told a photographer, "Coach Royal thought it (the toe) was worse than I do."
Phillips agreed with Royal, however, that he probably would not work out much during the week. Royal said Phillips practiced only about 15 minutes in the 2-1/2 weeks prior to UCLA, "and it tells in his conditioning and ball handling."
Defensive end David Arledge will definitely miss the Texas Tech game this Saturday with an injured knee, and "may be out for an extended time," Royal said. Co-captain Stan Mauldin, who watched the UCLA game from the sidelines with an injured leg, will replace Arledge if Mauldin is well.

Starting tight end Rick Davis is "still hobbling" with an injured back, and tackle Julius Whittier's hurt knee is "stiff and tight" from a pre-season injury and he is not listed on the depth chart.
Royal said the "worst thing" Texas did against UCLA was to "lose containment" of the passer. He added, "I saw plenty to improve on. But for an opening game—playing a team the caliber of UCLA, I am delighted" with the victory.
Asked about Tech, which was the last Southwest Conference team to beat Texas three years ago, Royal said the 0-2 Red Raiders could have won both of the games with a "bounce or two" in their favor.
Royal said Tech quarterback Charles Napper "looks tremendous" passing—"he is always on target." He said Tech's runners "are as good as anybody's."
Asked how he hoped to stop stocky James Moseley, who doesn't give a defender much of a target, Royal said, smiling, "With a bunch of people, everybody had better get a tight hold. He's an exceptional runner."
Also, Royal said, "This is the game" Tech players "have been zeroing in on ... all during June, July and August ... this is the game they have really had on their mind."
Says Efficiency Reports Should Be Better
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force passed word this week that more care and less wit should go into preparation of officer efficiency reports—annual statements that can make or break a man's career.
After sampling a collection of these reports which weigh heavily in promotion decisions, the Air Force found that they too often are whimsically written.
The Air Force Administration Newsletter offered a few examples, which it said "caused some hilarity among those who happened to be reading them" but not among those affected by them.
One officer was described as being able to "express a sentence in two paragraphs," while another was said to "need careful watching since he borders on the brilliant."

Teach Peace, Not War Now Offered

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Teach peace, not war. That's the theory behind a new and unusual major being offered under-graduates at Manhattan College.
The program, believed to be the first in the country at an undergraduate level, includes eight courses from various academic disciplines and a seminar.
A spokesman for the Roman Catholic college said the idea of a peace major stemmed from the Pacem in Terris Institute, an extracurricular program founded in 1963 by a group of Manhattan teachers. The institute took its name from the encyclical issued by the late Pope John XXIII and meaning Peace on Earth.
"Their founding principle," said the school spokesman, "was that peace could be taught. They referred to other things that are taught—including war and military tactics. Peace is a valid academic discipline."
Interest in the institute and its convocations and lectures led to the establishment five years ago of a peace course and, this fall, a full-fledged peace major.
Dr. Tom Stonier, director of the program, said eight juniors have begun peace majors. Enrollment in individual peace courses offered as electives ranges from 20 to 150, he said.
Why a peace major? "The outstanding social problem of our time is intergroup conflicts," said Stonier. "We see it in many parts of the globe. We feel that the students who must be tomorrow's leaders are not getting an adequate education on this point, that someone must address themselves systematically to the problem."
The peace major is interdisciplinary, meaning courses come from different departments—history, biology, literature, religious studies, psychology, economy and government. Students majoring in peace must take all eight courses—29 credits—plus the seminar over a two-year period.

Specific courses include; world economic geography—relating the geography of a country to its policies of aggression or nonaggression; anatomy of peace—a review of "war limiting or peace maintaining systems;" peace and revolution—peaceful means of revolutionary change within the framework of Christian theology; the literature of peace and war; and the biology of human behavior.
Stonier said the developers of the program hope the peace graduates will enter a variety of fields, particularly teaching and businesses that involve intergroup conflicts. He suggested peace graduates also could be valuable in helping prison wardens and law enforcement officials.
Topless Girls Arrested at Little Rock
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A hearing was set for 9 a.m. today in Little Rock Municipal Court for two topless dancers in a Little Rock nightclub charged with indecent exposure.
Police said Laurie Patricia Robinson, 31, and Shirley Estrella Morris, 28, both dancers at the Gaslight Club in the Lafayette Hotel in Little Rock were charged at 5:30 p.m. Monday.
Bob Trout, the owner of the club, said both dancers performed as usual Monday night. Trout has operated the club since it opened Sept. 8, featuring the topless dancing.
"Most all the people have been highly complimentary," he said. He said the club's patrons seem to feel the dancing was done in "good taste."
Lt. Walter Simpson, public relations officer for the Little Rock Police, said the warrants were issued after the Little Rock Police Department Vice Squad observed the act.
Trout was the public relations aide for former Gov. Orval E. Faubus during Faubus' unsuccessful bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination last year.
Trout said Monday night that he intended to fight the attempt to bar topless dancing in Little Rock. He predicted he would win.

Securities Probe Planned by Senate

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate panel prepared today to open its investigation into why some of the nation's biggest brokerage firms have failed under the eyes of the agency supposed to regulate them.
Heading the list of witnesses scheduled to testify before the Senate Securities subcommittee today are Chairman William J. Casey of the Securities and Exchange Commission and President Robert Haack of the New York Stock Exchange.
Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., the subcommittee chairman, said the initial hearings will concentrate on whether the SEC is equipped to spot and deal with difficulties within the industry it regulates.
Williams said the subcommittee will try to find out why so many brokerage firms—including some of the biggest—have failed and whether securities operations can be modernized, particularly to eliminate paperwork.
The subcommittee also will look into the question of whether customers are adequately protected when they leave cash or securities with brokers.
Some subcommittee members have criticized Casey, who faced some Senate opposition when he was confirmed in March.
Williams, for example, believes the SEC has not moved fast enough under Casey to end the $15 surcharge on small stock transactions or make it possible for mutual funds and other institutions to pay less than the fixed percentage commission rates on large stock transfers.
Subcommittee members have said Casey has opposed efforts by the institutions to become members of regional stock exchanges and then the New York Stock Exchange to avoid the bigger commissions.
In a related move, meanwhile, Sen. William V. Roth, R-Del., a member of the subcommittee, introduced legislation Monday designed to end widespread security losses and the big paperwork jam that plagues brokers.
The bill would create a National Securities Corporation to operate a nationwide depository for stock certificates.
Customers could have certificates if they wanted, but Roth said he believed many would leave them in the depository, with ownership changes shown only by bookkeeping entries.
There should be far fewer losses and reduced paperwork with such a system, he said.

Miss Americas Meet Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon talked a little football with two Miss Americas, and jokingly said they were sticking to regional loyalties in picking the nation's No. 1 college team.
The President posed for pictures Monday with the 1972 Miss America, Laura Lea Schaefer of Bexley, Ohio, and the 1971 titleholder, Phyllis George of Denton, Tex.
Miss Schaefer told the President she picked Ohio State, and Miss George picked Texas. Nixon suggested, "Don't overlook Notre Dame."

Says GI Drug Program Is a Farce

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman who investigated GI drug treatment facilities at home and abroad says military programs set up "to comply with administration directives range from the farcical to the inept."
In a report to the House Commerce Committee, Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., adds: "I have found many of them to be without form, content or the necessary expertise to achieve any sort of acceptable results."
"These programs were hastily conceived, or conceived in desperation; put into operation piecemeal and, predictably, executed in either disorganized or pedantic fashion."
In June, President Nixon declared illicit drugs the nation's No. 1 enemy and launched a program aimed at cutting off illegal drug supplies and rehabilitating addicts. He gave helping GIs top priority.
But, Murphy said, "An already bad drug abuse control program is being made worse by the inflexibility of the administration; it refuses to change in the face of the obvious failures in the program."
Murphy said that in all of the programs there is a dislike, distrust and disenchantment on the part of the patients for the treatment received.
Murphy based the report on his inspection of the Navy-Marine program at Miramar Naval Air Base in California; the Air Force program at Lackland Air Base in Texas; Army programs at Ft. Bragg, N.C., and Ft. Dix, N.J.; the Public Health Service programs at Fort Worth, Tex., and Lexington, Ky., for addicted servicemen, and at bases in Southeast Asia.
Meanwhile, Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., chairman of a House Judiciary subcommittee considering drug rehabilitation legislation, said a report by the General Accounting Office shows "addicts are being turned away by the busload" at PHS hospitals in Lexington and Fort Worth although the hospitals are operating at just half of capacity.
Edwards also said a program enacted by Congress, to give drug addicts arrested on federal crimes a choice of being rehabilitated instead of imprisoned, has barely been used by the Justice Department. Edwards said the report "documents the abysmal inadequacy

More Trouble for Saigon Government

By J. T. WOLKERSTORFER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Antigovernment demonstrations continued in Saigon today as two more groups called for the resignation of President Nguyen Van Thieu and cancellation of the Oct. 3 presidential election.
Nearly a dozen religious and political groups have denounced the election and Thieu's unopposed candidacy.
Nguyen Tan Dat, rector of the Buu Son Ky Huong branch of the Vietnam Buddhist Church, sent an open letter to Thieu asking that he resign and that the election be canceled.
Dat called for the organization of new elections and invalidation of the election law which requires presidential candidates to be endorsed by 40 members of the National Assembly or 100 province and city councilmen.
Dat's letter also called for the withdrawal of all American troops from Indochina by the end of the year, and urged Thieu not to be the "servant of foreigners."
At a meeting attended by a number of important religious and political leaders who oppose the government, Secretary General Pham Ba Cam said his Social Democratic party does not accept either the coming presidential election or the results of the Aug. 29 lower house election. He called the one-man race a plebiscite and "contrary to the constitution."
The latest demonstrations broke out at the Faculty of Science in Saigon, when about 100 students protested the election and the government's compulsory ROTC-type military training.
The students set a mass of rubble afire in the middle of Cong Hoa Street in the Chinese section of Saigon, then chalked anti-Thieu and "Bunker go home" slogans on the street. Ellsworth Bunker is the U.S. ambassador to Saigon.
Police fired several volleys of tear gas and made one brief charge into the compound to disperse the students, but a major confrontation was averted when the rector of the Faculty of Science, Dr. Nguyen Trung Tu, negotiated a truce with the 5th district police chief, Maj. Loi Nguyen Trang.
Trang agreed to withdraw his police after Tu guaranteed there would be no violence and the students would return home after a short rally in the compound.
After singing several peace songs and hearing speeches by their leaders, the students dispersed peacefully.

Mrs. Don Freel, Chairman, Mrs. Dub Bruner, and all Hope Junior Auxiliary members are spearheading a "New Look" at the Bargain Basement Thrift Shop, which for 13 years has been a project of the Hope Junior Auxiliary.
The Thrift Shop is closed temporarily but will soon re-open with all new items of used clothing and household goods suitable for the entire family.
During the year 1970, clothing and other needed items were given to 80 underprivileged children and their families.
All proceeds from the Thrift Shop, the Hope Junior Auxiliary Spaghetti Supper, and the Hope Junior Auxiliary Christmas Bazaar go to needy children in Hope.
During the past year a total of 381 underprivileged children received needed assistance as a result of these projects.

RCA Introduces XL-100 100% Solid State Color TV

A Dramatic and Factual Report on RCA'S Revolutionary New XL-100-100% SOLID STATE AccuColor Television.

A Simple Explanation of RCA 100% "Solid State" And What It Means to You as a Consumer.

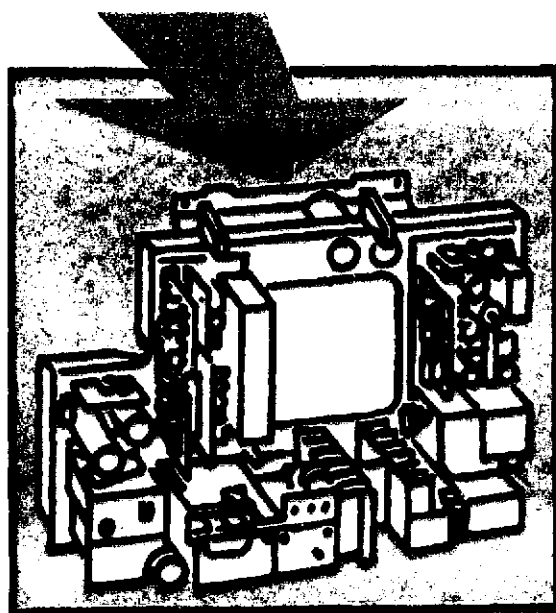

Solid state devices, unlike tubes, are made of solid materials which generate little heat and have almost indefinite life. This is good news for you as a consumer; because tube failure is the major cause of TV set breakdowns and repairs. Even before tubes die and have to be replaced, most deteriorate and can cause color to fade, shift or wash out. Not so of solid-state devices—their operation is relatively unaffected by aging. Unlike tubes, solid-state devices have no filaments to burn out. And because they are solid state, these devices are virtually immune to shock and severe environmental conditions. A solid-state device requires less power to operate than does a tube. The RCA Solid State Chassis requires 35% less electrical power to operate than the best chassis using tubes. You can see how the savings on your electrical bill can be an important factor over the time you own a solid state set. Solid state devices end warm-up wait. You get picture and sound immediately.

AS EARLY AS 1953 RCA television sets contained advanced components similar to the solid copper circuit board shown here. As solid state technology advanced, more and more vacuum tubes were replaced by long-life solid state components.

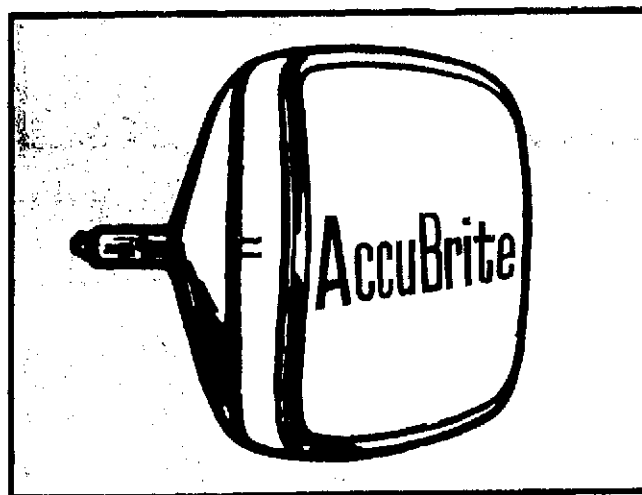

IN 1969, RCA INTRODUCED ACCUCIRCUIT MODULES. These AccuCircuits actually plug in and snap out of the chassis as a complete unit. If module service is ever needed, it's simply a matter of plugging in a replacement! All components are SOLID STATE—no tubes TODAY—RCA'S LATEST ADVANCE—CERAMIC ACCUCIRCUIT MODULES! These miniature marvels of solid state technology are the most advanced type of componentry known to television science. Numerous circuits and miniature components are bonded to a durable ceramic wafer. Every Ceramic AccuCircuit is 100% Solid State.—if service should be needed, the technician simply pulls it out and plugs in a replacement!

Why The RCA "Extended Life" XL-100 Chassis Is Years Ahead In The Color TV Industry.

XL-100 is made to last. All chassis tubes are out. RCA has replaced them with solid state circuitry designed to perform longer with fewer repairs. Each set is built with 12 exclusive plug-in Accu Circuit modules—including 3 lunar age ceramic modules—another major advance. Snap-out/Plug-in Accu Circuit modules are relatively small and easily accessible. There are no connecting prongs to bend or break during replacement. Their special design assures easier isolation and repair should the need for repair ever occur. Most repairs can be done in your home and be done more quickly and easily. RCA's 100% Solid State chassis is the finest power plant ever built into a color set. This means years of the sharpest, brightest, most dependable color performance money can buy.

RCA Black Matrix Picture Tube Means Amazingly Consistent Color

A color TV picture is formed by thousands of phosphor color dots on a background called a Matrix. In previous color tubes the color dots were surrounded by a grey background. Then RCA developed the new Hi-Lite 70 Accu Brite tube. In this remarkable new picture tube the color dots are surrounded by a jet-black background. This means that with RCA's new XL-100 you get the brightest, sharpest, most contrasting color picture ever developed by RCA.

RCA Pushbutton AccuMatic. The Most Dependable, Automatic Tuning System In The Industry.

All RCA XL-100 Solid State models feature the Accu Matic color monitor (ACM). Let's face it. Most people don't want to bother fiddling with TV controls. Some would just as soon never touch the knobs. And some simply can't get the hang of it. Others may find it easy, but have kids who don't.

Now, RCA comes to the rescue with the ACCU Matic color monitor (ACM). RCA's automatic color monitor locks color within a normal range. All at the touch of a button. So if Junior messes up the color and tint, one touch of the ACM button instantly restores your picture.

The Accu Matic color monitor also corrects the problem of distorted flesh tones due to variations in the TV signal. It maintains natural, pleasing flesh tones—channel to channel, scene to scene.

Accu Matic makes the RCA XL-100 the most automatic color TV money can buy.

Built to Last & Backed in Writing by America's Strongest Consumer Warranty

of Purchaser Satisfaction

Backed for one year by RCA

* We have such confidence in the reliability of XL-100 we're backing each set in writing for a full year, covering both parts and labor. Here are the basic provisions of our XL-100 "Purchaser Satisfaction" warranty ("PS" for short): If anything goes wrong with your new set within a year from the day you buy it, and it's our fault, we'll pay your repair bill—both parts and complete labor.

You can use any service shop in which you have confidence—you don't have to pick from some special authorized list. If your set is a portable, you take it in for service. For larger sets, your serviceman will come to your home. Just present your warranty registration card and RCA pays his repair bill.

If your picture tube becomes defective during the first two years, we will exchange it for a rebuilt tube. (We pay for installation during the first year—you pay for it in the second year.)

In short, the warranty covers every set defect. It doesn't cover installation, foreign use, antenna systems or adjustment of customer controls.
